

2018 KEYSTONE COLDWATER CONFERENCE Call for Posters

Applications are now being accepted to present a poster at the 2018 Keystone Coldwater Conference, titled “Coldwater Resource Conservation and Education: Rising to the Challenges; Embracing the Opportunities.” This conference, hosted by the Pennsylvania Council of Trout Unlimited, will be held on February 23-24, 2018 at the Ramada Inn Conference Center in State College, Pennsylvania.

Target Audience:

Our target audience is generally grassroots members from nonprofit organizations such as Trout Unlimited, sportsmen’s groups and watershed associations, along with environmental professionals from conservation districts, state agencies, and consulting firms. College and University students and faculty are most welcome. A primary goal of the conference is to promote the sharing of ideas among these diverse groups that have common interests. Based on past attendance, we expect a turnout of close to 200 people.

Poster Information:

Posters are invited from watershed organizations, Trout Unlimited Chapters, agency staff, students, and any other groups that have projects or research to share with the conference participants. Research projects related to science, management, policy, and education and outreach related to coldwater resources are eligible. There is no charge for posters, which should be no larger than 40” x 48”. Easels will be provided, but you must provide your own poster board. Poster presenters do not receive a free registration and must register for the conference.

Please submit your poster information using the form on the next page by December 11, 2018.
